9. Criteria for admission to the programme

The MEd SEND is for qualified teachers. Applicants should therefore have QTS or an equivalent qualification for International students.

Prospective students should possess an undergraduate degree or equivalent.

Applicants can work in any phase of education (early years, primary, secondary, FE/HE) and in any institution recognised as a school provided that they meet at least one of the following criteria:

- Special Educational Needs Coordinator (SENCo).
- Aspiring SENCo.
- School leader.
- Teacher or professional working in a specialised provision or context (for example, a special school).

Candidates will need a high level of competence in the use of English, equivalent to at least 6.5 in the IELTS test or TOEFL 575 (paper based), 237 (computer based). See section B of University Regulations for Admission. See http://www.mdx.ac.uk/intcampus/noidacentre/entry/index.aspx

The programme may be open to individuals who do not have an undergraduate degree or QTS. Admission will be at the discretion of the programme leader. For more information, contact Siobhan Mellor (Siobhan@realgroup.co.uk).

Please note that where individuals without QTS are admitted to the programme, successful completion does not confer QTS.

10. Aims of the programme

The programme aims to enable professionals working in the area of SEND to:

- Become equipped with a range of skills and knowledge that will enable them to meet the needs of vulnerable groups of children and their families.
- Develop professional practice via the application of skills and knowledge.
- · Study some aspects of SEND in greater depth.
- Develop practice using the findings of published research and via critical analysis of the evidence base for intervention in SEND.
- Develop their skills as practitioner researchers.

11. Programme outcomes

A. Knowledge and understanding

On completion of this programme the successful student will have knowledge and understanding of:

A1 At least one specialist area of SEND.

A2 The way in which research informs understanding of models of disability and special educational practice.

A3 The literature and policy related to aspects of SEND.

A4 Application of research methods as a practitioner researcher working in a special education context.

Teaching/learning methods

Students gain knowledge and understanding through:

- Engagement with the programme materials
- Tutor directed reading
- Individually directed reading in a specialist area
- Problem based and enquiry-based learning scenarios
- Engagement in on line discussion forums

Assessment methods

Students' knowledge and understanding is assessed by coursework and critical analysis assignments, which are detailed in module narratives. Assessment methods will vary according to module content and focus but can include:

- Written assignments.
- Reflective journals.
- Critical literature reviews.
- Engagement in problem-based learning scenarios.
- Critique of local policy and practice.
- Action research that includes rigorous design/procedure/

justification.

B. Cognitive (thinking) skills

On completion of this programme the successful student will be able to:

B1 Apply knowledge and understanding to professional practice in their specific area of study of SEND.

B2 Synthesise and critique relevant literature and research evidence in order to develop lines of argument in relation to aspects of SEND policy and practice.

B3 Critically evaluate and reflect on their own practice and/or research.

B4 Undertake a systematic enquiry related to an aspect of SEND that demonstrates use of appropriate research design and methods in a soundly argued epistemological framework.

Teaching/learning methods

Students learn cognitive skills through:

- Engagement with the programme materials
- Tutor-directed reading
- Individually directed reading in a specialist area
- Problem based and enquiry-based learning scenarios
- Engagement in online discussion forums

Assessment methods

Students' cognitive skills are assessed by coursework and critical analysis or reflective analysis assignments, which are detailed in module narratives. Assessment methods will vary according to module content and focus but may include:

- Written assignments.
- Reflective journals.
- Critical literature reviews.
- Engagement in problem-based learning scenarios.
- Critique of local policy and practice.
- Action research that includes rigorous design/procedure/ justification.
- Multimedia presentation/seminar with accompanying notes.
- Portfolio of evidence which might include multimedia productions.

C. Practical skills

On completion of the programme the successful student will be able to:

C1 Engage in reflective practice in order to enhance pedagogy.

C2 Apply theoretical knowledge to improve professional practice.

Teaching/learning methods

Students learn practical skills through

- Engagement with the programme materials.
- Tutor-directed reading.
- Individually directed reading in a specialist area.

C3 Evaluate the impact of research evidence/evidence bases on SEND practice.

C4 Design, implement and evaluate practitioner research into an aspect of SEND practice.

- Problem-based and enquiry-based learning.
- Engagement in online discussion forums.

Assessment methods

Students' practical skills are assessed by coursework and practice analysis assignments, which are detailed in module narratives. Assessment methods will vary according to module content and focus but may include:

- Written assignments.
- Reflective journals.
- Critical literature reviews.
- Engagement in problem-based learning scenarios.
- Critique of local policy and practice.
- Action research that includes rigorous design/procedure/ justification.
- Multimedia presentation/seminar with accompanying notes.
- Portfolios of evidence which might include multimedia productions.

In particular, assessment of practical skills will examine the extent to which students are able to make theory and practice links and thus enhance the experience of the children or young people with whom they are working.

12.2 Levels and modules

Starting in academic year 2010/11 the University is changing the way it references modules to state the level of study in which these are delivered. This is to comply with the national Framework for Higher Education Qualifications. This implementation will be a gradual process whilst records are updated. Therefore the old coding is bracketed below.

Level 7 (4)

COMPULSORY	OPTIONAL	PROGRESSION REQUIREMENTS
M12 Enquiry-based SEND Practice (60 credits) taken in the final year of the programme	Students may choose from any other 30 or 60 credit modules for the remaining 120 credits, but note restrictions as specified on pages 12-14	Students must have successfully completed 120 credits for progression to MEd
