9. Criteria for admission to the programme

The PGDip is a programme for teachers and other educational professionals. Applicants will need to be working in an educational setting and be suitably qualified for such a role; for example QTS or equivalent.

Prospective students should possess an undergraduate degree or equivalent.

Applicants can work in any phase of education (early years, primary, secondary, FE/HE) and in any institution recognised as a school provided that they meet at least one of the following criteria:

- Special Educational Needs Coordinator (SENCo)
- Aspiring SENCo
- School leader
- Teacher or professional working in a specialised provision or context (for example, a special school)

Candidates will need a high level of competence in the use of English, equivalent to at least 6.5 (with a minimum of 6 in each component) in the IELTS test or TOEFL 575 (paper based), 237 (computer based). See section B of University Regulations for Admission. See <http://www.mdx.ac.uk/intcampus/noidacentre/entry/index.aspx>

The programme may be open to individuals who do not have an undergraduate degree or QTS. Admission will be at the discretion of the programme leader. For more information contact Katie Hickin (katie.hickin@realgroup.co.uk).

Please note that where individuals without QTS are admitted to the programme, successful completion does not confer QTS.

10. Aims of the programme

The programme aims to enable professionals working in the area of SEND to:

- Become equipped with a range of skills and knowledge that will enable them to meet the needs of vulnerable groups of children and their families.
- Develop different models of partnership with an understanding of the place of power and ethics in listening to and understanding children, parents and carers.
- Develop professional practice via the application of skills and knowledge.
- Study some aspects of SEND in greater depth.
- Develop practice using the findings of published research and via critical analysis of the evidence base for intervention in SEND.
- Develop their skills as practitioner researchers.

11. Programme outcomes
A. Knowledge and understanding On completion of this programme the successful student will have knowledge and understanding of : <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. the research, literature, policy and guidance surrounding this area of SEND specialism 2. the way in which theory and research contribute to the development of professional practice in this area of SEND specialism 3. the range of effective approaches to assessment and provision for supporting pupils with SEND. 4. how knowledge explored in the module has impacted on wider educational policy and professional practices. 	Teaching/learning methods Students gain knowledge and understanding through: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Engagement with the programme materials. ● Tutor directed reading. ● Individually directed reading in a specialist area. ● Problem based and enquiry-based learning scenarios. ● Engagement in online discussion forums. Assessment methods Students' knowledge and understanding is assessed by is assessed by coursework and critical analysis assignments, which are detailed in module narratives. Assessment methods will vary according to module content and focus but may include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Written assignments. ● Reflective journals. ● Critical literature reviews. ● Engagement in problem-based learning scenarios. ● Critique of local policy and practice. ● Design of practitioner research and enquiry. ● Multimedia presentation/seminar with accompanying notes. ● Portfolios of evidence which might include multimedia productions.

B. Cognitive (thinking) skills

On completion of this programme the successful student will be able to:

1. critically analyse and evaluate different approaches to assessment or intervention for a focussed area of SEND
2. identify and critically analyse factors that have shaped educational policy and practice for learners with SEND
3. critically reflect on own practice in relation to focussed area of SEND.
4. synthesise and critique relevant literature and research evidence in order to inform a systematic enquiry related to an aspect of SEND practice
5. critically evaluate and reflect on their own practice and/or research.

Teaching/learning methods

Students learn cognitive skills through:

- Engagement with the programme materials.
- Tutor-directed reading.
- Individually directed reading in a specialist area.
- Problem-based and enquiry-based learning scenarios.
- Engagement in online discussion forums.

Assessment methods

Students' cognitive skills are assessed by coursework and critical or reflective analysis assignments, which are detailed in module narratives. Assessment methods will vary according to module content and focus but may include:

- Written assignments.
- Reflective journals.
- Critical literature reviews.
- Engagement in problem-based learning scenarios.
- Critique of local policy and practice.
- Design of practitioner research and enquiry.
- Multimedia presentation/seminar with accompanying notes.
- Portfolios of evidence which might include multimedia productions

C. Practical skills

On completion of the programme the successful student will be able to:

1. analyse current barriers for pupils with SEND in accessing any element of their education and develop evidence-informed solutions to enhance inclusion.
2. apply knowledge to practice in the real world context
3. engage in reflective practice in order to enhance pedagogy
4. design, implement and critically evaluate the impact of evidence-informed provision for pupils in the learning environment.

Teaching/learning methods

Students learn practical skills through

- Engagement with the programme materials.
- Tutor directed reading.
- Individually directed reading in a specialist area.
- Problem-based and enquiry-based learning.
- Engagement in online discussion forums.

Assessment Methods

Students' practical skills are assessed by coursework and practice analysis assignments, which are detailed in module narratives. Assessment methods will vary according to module content and focus but may include:

- Written assignments.
- Reflective journals.
- Critical literature reviews.
- Engagement in problem-based learning scenarios.
- Critique of local policy and practice.
- Design of practitioner research and enquiry..
- Multimedia presentation/seminar with accompanying notes.
- Portfolios of evidence which might include multimedia productions

In particular, assessment of practical skills will examine the extent to which students are able to make theory and practice links and thus enhance the experience of the children or young people with whom they are working.

D. 14. Information about assessment regulations

Standard Middlesex University regulations apply to this programme.

These can be found at: <https://www.mdx.ac.uk/about-us/policies/university-regulations/>.

15. Placement opportunities, requirements and support (if applicable)

N/A

16. Future careers (if applicable)

Completion of the PGDip is likely to enhance the student's suitability for working in a leadership/managerial/subject specialist role in a range of educational contexts and thus could contribute to career progression. Completion of a PGDip will enable students to progress to MEd.

17. Particular support for learning (if applicable)

Support for online learning will be given as this programme is delivered via distance learning.

Students entering the programme may have a range of recent academic experience, with some continuing students, and some with a gap between their last studies at higher education and/or master's level.

Advice is available on all the modules to support any student with the study skills they need to undertake the programme including: Critical writing, Critical writing and Harvard referencing. Students are also encouraged to think critically about the area of SEND which they are engaged with.

Technical support for Campus Online learning platform and a general IT issues is provided by Real Training's IT department. Pastoral support is also provided by the Real Training team, who ensure each student's needs are treated according to their individual situation.
