Prospective students should possess an undergraduate degree or equivalent. Prospective students without an undergraduate degree or equivalent can elect to write an eligibility essay, which if marked as a pass will allow them admission to the programme.

Candidates will need a high level of competence in the use of English. See the Middlesex University english language requirements for details of currently accepted qualifications: <https://www.mdx.ac.uk/study-with-us/international/entry-requirements-for-international-students/english-language-requirements-for-international-students>

Applications for recognition of prior learning and credit transfer are accepted on this programme in line with Middlesex University's regulations. The current University regulations can be found here: <https://www.mdx.ac.uk/about-us/policies>

10. Aims of the programme

The programme aims to enable professionals working in the area of pastoral support to:

- Become equipped with a range of advanced skills and specialist knowledge that will enable them to meet the needs of vulnerable groups of children and their families.
- Develop professional practice via the systematic application of skills and knowledge.
- Study some specialist aspects of pastoral support in greater depth.
- Develop practice using the findings of published research and via critical analysis of the evidence base for pastoral support.
- Develop their skills as practitioner researchers.
- Develop different models of partnership with a critical understanding of the place of power and ethics in listening to and understanding children, parents and carers.

11. Programme outcomes*

A. Knowledge and understanding

15. Future careers / progression

Completion of the MEd SEND and Inclusion: Pastoral is likely to enhance students' suitability for working in a leadership/managerial/subject specialist role in a range of educational contexts and thus could contribute to career progression. Completion of the Masters level qualification gives eligibility for pursuing further studies at doctoral level.

16. Particular support for learning

Support for online learning will be given as this programme is delivered via distance learning.

Students entering the programme may have a range of recent academic experience, with some continuing students, and some with a gap between their last studies at higher education and/or master's level.

Advice is available on all the modules to support any student with the study skills they need to undertake the programme including: critical writing and Harvard referencing. Students are also encouraged to think critically about the area of SEND and inclusion which they are engaged with.

Technical support for Campus Online learning platform and general IT issues is provided by Real Group's IT department. Pastoral support is also provided by the Real Training team, who ensure each student's needs are treated according to their individual situation.
